The New Teachers

MR. J. J. SOUTER, B.A.

Mr. Souter from the time he arrived proved to be one of our hardest working teachers.

He teaches Algebra and Physical Training, but is more commonly seen coaching boys' basketball and the tumbling club. As captain of the C.S.O.C. (Cadets), he is doing a fine job.

Obtaining his degree at the University of Alberta, he taught at Western Canada High School previous to coming to Crescent.

MR. R. G. WALLACE, B.A.

Mr. Wallace was welcomed to the staff of Crescent last fall, after leaving Normal Practice School, and Langevin, where he taught for 13 years.

He was graduated from the University of Alberta and is now studying with the same University to complete his B. Ed. degree.

You may find him teaching Social I and II, and English I or advising the activities of the Boys' Athletic Association.

He comments that he is enjoying Crescent and Crescent kids.

Foreword

THE Bugle is an annual record in print and picture of the activities and achievements of the students of Crescent Heights High School. Dealing almost entirely with the actions and personalities of the student body, it is a publication of great interest to those presently attending school and to their parents and friends. In addition, it has served during the war years the fine purpose of informing ex-students in the armed forces in various parts of the world of the manner in which their successors in Crescent Heights School are using the opportunities for intellectual, social and physical development which a modern high school offers.

As they read this year's "Bugle" these ex-students will no doubt laugh at the jokes and jibes and smile reminiscently at the reports of club and group activities. They will be interested in the biographies, the individual and group pictures, they will be proud of the school's successful record in sports and they will study with care the more serious articles and statements which appear in the publication.

These ex-students, many of whom are enduring the most difficult and dangerous experiences that humans can be asked to undergo, would agree, as they look back on their own years in high school and as they contemplate their present duties and their future problems, that the school's purposes for its students, of sound mental and physical health, accurate and extensive knowledge and alert trained minds, are valid both in war and peace. They would wish that the students now in attendance at Crescent Heights School should use to the full their present educational opportunities and prepare themselves well to meet the varied requirements of citizenship in post-war years.

F. G. BUCHANAN, M.A.,
Superintendent of Schools.

Editorial

TO all those from this school who have gone to fight our battles over the seas—God speed. To all of you who will leave us at this graduation time, good luck, and a successful career in your chosen vocations.

We have been privileged to receive our education during the most exciting and momentous years of history. Perhaps we have but slightly appreciated the opportunity we have been given to develop our minds, bodies and personalities.

Realizing that this opportunity has been bought only at the cost of the lives of many, we feel it almost a sacred obligation to use what we have received to the fullest and best advantage. Sooner or later will come our chance to use our training and show that we have learned the lesson of these dreadful years.

Through all times we have let a few great men bear the burden of trying to keep society on a high level. Scholars, scientists, humanitarians, have given the best they had, inspired by the ideal of a better world. The most recent and moving example is the untimely death of President Roosevelt. The responsibility carried by such men as he, belongs not to the few, but to the masses. It belongs to you and me. It is our privilege and our duty.

Our soldiers have played their part well. To us belongs an even greater role and challenge, keeping the peace. This task will demand everything of us—alertness of mind, health of body, and purity of spirit. It will demand more than we can accomplish alone.

“Dear Lord of Heaven and Earth
Give us these strengths
When Victory comes . . .
Guide us to peace
Forever and ever.”

ROBIN WOODS.

What Does May 8, 1945 Mean To You ?

V-E Day marks the formal conclusion of hostilities in Europe. Germany has surrendered unconditionally to the victorious Allies. For five and one-half long years we have made costly sacrifices and so we justly deserve this reward. Now is the time for prayers of thanksgiving and rejoicing.

Before such phrases as these lull us into a self-satisfied, complacent slumber, let us face the facts. God has given us the victory with his right hand and with His left hand He offers us a challenge for the future.

Just because we've beaten Germany . . . just because we've won the first battle in this dreadful civil war that mankind is fighting* amongst itself on the surface of the earth . . . just because we've come to the first landmark, we have not come to the end; we've come to the beginning. We've just been clearing the road of the future.

A re-dedication of all our strength, wisdom, talent, understanding, co-operation, and yes! our very being is the price that is now being asked of us. A princely wage indeed but not too high if everyone carries his rightful share. Twenty-five years ago our parents were given a similar chance; however, they found the price too great. If we fail, likewise, who is to say that future generations will ever be given the opportunity again?

Such a desire for peace must be kindled in the hearts of men that they will profit from past mistakes and will devote their lives to the service of their fellow-men. Already thousands of our most loved ones have given all that is mortally possible to give. They have left us this challenge,

"If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields."

KAY BLACK.

The Victor

He slowly drove, from scabbed and wretched earth
The blinding, blood stained clouds of war; that Mars
With evil hate, had yoked a world of strife,
He let the light of love, the joy, the mirth
Of freedom, shine again to heal the scars,
To mend the minds, a gift of God—new life.
He ushered Spring, that follows all the Hell
Of Winter; yes, he did his duty well.

But he has gone, he flung the flaming torch
To you, to me; the struggle must go on
To vanquish greed, for it again could foul
The thoughts of men, and rouse the surging throng.
So pray, so fight that fellowship of man
Might be; and finish that which they began.

MARGARET LAMINMAN.

I Prophecy

I PROPHECY that college education will become more universal, being free to students of merit, entrance not being allowed to students who are slow but have the money. Students will be supported by the government while in college and in some cases the students family will also be supported. TIME, 10 years hence.

I PROPHECY that Canada will tend to become more and more socialized. Industries will pass more and more into a condition of government control and will quickly become government owned. Human rights will gradually become more and more important than property rights. TIME, 10 years hence.

I PROPHECY that chemotherapy will reach a high stage of development. Sulfa drugs, penicillin and other such drugs have paved the way for a host of others that are bringing more and more fatal diseases within the realm of curable diseases. Medicine in general and also science will take giant steps forward as discoveries made secret by the war are released. Synthetic rubbers will stay by their own virtues not because they are substitutes for rubber. The electron microscope whose development has been accelerated by the war will become more and more common bringing its benefits to laboratories all over the world. TIME, 5 years hence.

I PROPHECY that the world will be organized as a confederation of states like the provinces of Canada, with the supreme body deciding on all matters of inter-state relations. Such a body including every nation in the world would have representatives by population. The population that could be counted towards a representative could be on the basis of education. Thus a country like India with a mass of uneducated people could only have about as many representatives as perhaps Canada. But if the number of people in India that conformed to the standards of education as set by the supreme body increased, the number of Indian representatives would increase. Judgements would be supreme, and would be enforced with might if necessary. Problems which do not affect interstate relation are no concern of this body, but anything that reaches outside the borders of a country such as trade and immigration policies would be the business of the body. TIME: 5 years hence.

I PROPHECY that Race tolerance will become race equality. Races other than your own must be more than tolerated. Nobody wants to be tolerated. PEOPLE WANT TO BE, SHOULD BE, AND MUST BE EQUAL. Race tolerance will give way to racial equality. TIME: 25 years hence.

I PROPHECY that in time borders will disappear altogether. Nationalism will wane and people will become more internationalistic. Goods and people will flow freely. there will be no wars caused by people who for their self gain stir up nationalism and promote wars. TIME: 25 years hence.

I PROPHECY that Government controls applied to industry will be continued after the war. A liberal or conservative government would be forced to and a Socialist government would keep and extend them of its own accord. Taxes on high income and excess profits will stay, as well. TIME: 5 years hence.

I PROPHECY that there will be nothing done to counter the shortage of men as compared to women after this war. There can be nothing done. Polygamy is impossible in Canada for many obvious reasons. The problem, which is not as serious as many others, is one incapable of solutions and many women will have to die old maids. TIME: 5 years hence.

I HAVE SPOKEN.

ISRAEL SWITZER.

SALUTE TO SPRING

The maze of days goes quickly by
Not waiting for a thing;
But suddenly you wake to find
It's Sunday and it's Spring!

To some it's just another day,
But there are those who pause
To drink their full of new spring air
And ponder Nature's laws.

The parks are filled with children gay
Their parents basking nigh,
And under trees with bursting buds
Two lovers strolling by.

The sun shines down on idle hands
A day of rest and ease;
For Sunday afternoon in spring
Is God's own masterpiece.

RUBY GUTHRIE.

TWILIGHT REVERIE

At evening when the night draws nigh,
I gaze upon the darkening sky,
And sit and dream of far off things,
Of Ali Baba and of kings.
Riding on my magic carpet,
Up above the ancient market;
Then again my horse I ride
Along beside the Great Divide.

MARY COPELAND.

KISMET (Fate to You)

To Algernon J. Beeble (the "J" standing for Josephus), everything which happened to him, or to anyone else for that matter was simply a quirk of fate, a thing which was bound to happen sooner or later, simply because fate had planned it so. Algy as I brazenly took the liberty of calling him, believed not only in fate, but his implicit faith in himself became more evident as time went by. Why, at the age of five, Algy had set up a sidewalk stand, which catered expressly to the housewives of our neighborhood! Above the crudely constructed stand was a sign stating that—

ALGERNON JOSHEPHUS BEEBLE WILL
UNCLOG YOUR KETCHUP BOTTLES
FOR 5c A BOTTLE.

I was usually the actual ketchup—unclogger, but Algy, the boy genius, explained impatiently that, "Algernon J. Beebles looks ever so much better on the letterhead of a large business firm than plain old Amy Mason does!" But so much in awe of the fellow was I that even this explanation was wholly unnecessary.

As the weeks became months and the months years, Algy and I changed toward each other, no longer were we merely pals, for a feeling of true affection had come over us and, when we had barely turned eighteen, we became man and wife! Aw, romance!

During our teen-age Algy had continued on to greater and greater heights in the business world. By the time our little Alphonse came into the world, the name Beeble was known throughout North America. Up, up, up went our fame until, at last, the Beeble Catsup Unclogging Company was at its highest possible peak. Who would be the one to break our ecstatic little bubble of fame? Who, who, I asked myself, until I knew I should go mad if I did not know!

How soon I was to know! How wonderfully soon! For it was my own little son my own little Alphonse who caused the downfall of my husband. Alphonse's imaginative, constructive little brain had at the age of three months, surpassed any plan which his father's could ever conjure! My baby had invented an all-year sucker! And not only did his suckers last for a full year, but they came in three hundred and sixty-five different flavors!

Almost instantly Algy's fame faded into the dim past, so overshadowing was Alphonse's invention.

But, as was inevitable, that unrelenting demon Jealousy reared its ugly head. My home was filled with cruel accusations flung from father to son! Algy became unbearable and finally I took it upon myself to order my husband to leave my house and never to dampen my bathmat again! He left, after a trivial scene in which he strangled five of our trusted and faithful servants.

In the dead of the night a week later, Algy returned to my home, in a drunken stupor. The one thought in his maddened brain was murder! Our son the object of these horror filled thoughts! But I was prepared. I met him at the door of the nursery and rushed ahead of him to my baby's side.

Grabbing the meat cleaver on which Alphonse was cutting his teeth, I slashed Algy, mortally wounding him!

The last I saw of the man I had once loved was his gore-covered body being borne away on a river of his own blood towards the edge of a bottomless pit, which I had formerly prepared for just such an emergency.

Fate, that's what it was, fate!

PEGGY CAWSEY.

POW-WOW.

Nimble feet to the throb of drum,
And silver bells to the lively chant,
Faces agleam and bodies lithe,
My people move in the ancient dance,
Slower now, and solemn too,
Chant and drum their rhythm change;
Bodies and feet in harmony,
Around the mystic circle move—
Beaded bands with feathers fringed,
Mocassin'd feet on the dusty floor,
Aprons brodered in strange design
Porcupine headdress and strings of bells
The ancient garb of the lordly Sioux.
The chiefs still sit above the fire,
And to their left are the women grouped
While on the right, male guest and brave
Regard, intent, the dancers' skill.
The drum throbs on; the melodies
In shrilly cadence rise and fall;
Time and the present fade away;
Our minds with ancient times are one.
We see again the campfire gleam
Upon the tepee's trophied pole
On lance and arrow, skin and bow,
On prize of combat and of chase.
Our bonds of present servitude
Are loosed by dreams of former days
When we were lords of hill and plain
And masters of our destiny.

Within a reservation's pale
Our movements are confined,
The plains, the hills, no longer ours
The chase, the raid, are legend now.

Wakan-tunga, Spirit Great!
Heed thy children call!
Our pledge, our faith unbroken yet
Save, heal thy children still.

A Tale From Indian Folklore

All races of people have stories that are passed down from generation to generation; so it is with the American Indian.

There were some story tellers among the Indians who told rather tall tales which is only human. This is one of the stories that I once heard told by an old Indian from Montana. It took place along the foothills of the Rockies.

It was one of those winters when there is quite a bit of snow and the earth was covered with a white blanket that glittered in the sun.

One day in this particular winter the Chief of an Indian Camp thought he would give a feast to his people. The next morning he gathered a few of the young braves and prepared to go hunting for some meat for the big feast that night.

There were three in the party, the Chief and two of his best huntsmen. They each had a horse, but failed to take a pack horse in case they bagged big game. So they started off through the foothills and wandered finally into the mountains. They had been riding nearly all day when they spotted a mountain goat. They got off their horses and tied them to a tree and started stalking their prey. The Chief managed to get a few feet from the mountain goat without scaring it. He had a rifle and took careful aim, and with one shot brought his prey down, lifeless in the snow. By this time it was getting dark but they decided to start cutting it up. The two braves took their hunting knives from their sheaths and proceeded to cut the head off.

The Chief then told them to take the head down to a stream nearby while he went to get the horses. So they took the head down to the river and the Chief went to get the horses. When they got back to their great surprise, the carcass was nowhere in sight! All that was left were the tracks the supposedly dead animal made. The Chief did not know what to think and decided the only thing to do was to follow the tracks that the mountain goat had made. They followed them for about two miles but turned back because it was dark.

Later that night a very dejected hunting party rode into camp. They felt very foolish in letting their prey get away from under their very noses. Being the best huntsmen in the camp and having reputations to maintain, they said they would track it down the next day. The feast was postponed to the next evening.

Next morning, they got up bright and early. It was going to be a nice day and very suitable for tracking. Traveling rapidly they arrived at the place where they had been the night before, (just about the middle of the day.) They took up the search where they had left off, and followed the tracks away into the mountain but failed to see any sign of their game.

However, late in the afternoon they saw that they had been following a large circle, but kept up the search. Just as the sun was first dipping over the horizon they arrived at the place where they had started from and there was a mountain goat that appeared to have its head in the snow. The Chief took out his trusty rifle and wishing to make up for the one he had lost the day before, shot it. The mountain goat kicked up its heels and fell to the snow. To the hunting party's amazement the mountain goat rolled over, but it was headless! It was the same one they shot yesterday. They packed it on one of the horses waited till they got it into camp to prepare it for the biggest feast they had that winter.

What Counts?

Heather stared around the outside office inquiringly as if those bare brown walls could possibly give some clue as to what mood "Frankie" was in. Carefully she scrutinized the bulletin-board, and just as she completed the same line of text in an uncomprehending manner for at least the third time, a door squeaked. Her grey eyes opened wider, and her right eyebrow the one with the odd little quirk, raised itself to an alarming height. As she prepared to turn, an appreciative whistle sounded, and Heather, shoulders suddenly stiff, announced in a bored voice; "Laurie Miller, I couldn't mistake that wolf call!"

"Rrrright", a fat, jovial voice exclaimed. Then—"Late?" he inquired, glancing at the significantly closed office door.

"No, skipping." This briefly. "And I wish you would have the kindness, the unutterable consideration not to creep around opening doors like that. I've got the willies anyhow."

"Creeping around," he protested in a mock hurt voice, "not I, leave that to pussyfoot." And he gave another significant nod at that significant door.

Suddenly a thunderous voice was heard from behind it; the two gave guilty starts, and in the brief silence that followed, Laurie half grinned, half sniffed, and withdrew cautiously his red shiny face from the crack in the door. Heather pretended to chew her fingernails in dismay; a dismay which she really felt, but would never have confessed to. That would have been quite against the unwritten law of Hillcrest High.

The next while, Heather determinedly turned her mind from the catastrophe at hand and briefly thought of her school year. She thought she hated school intensely, but then there were the basketball games. Heather was a cheer leader, and when she turned up at a game, her grey eyes awake, her arms and legs jumping madly and her brief green skirt flapping, she seemed a very dynamo. No one was more energetic than she, and her face would become almost as red from excitement and suspense as her blazing red hair. Yet to think of those times made Heather feel almost embarrassed. Imagine showing such enthusiasm over a mere game, although it had been a break, to win from those cock-sure brains at Middleton. And then, too, Chuck Burton had played a fair game. How that boy could dribble! Apart from the games there were the dances, and Heather loved to dance. It seemed great to meet kids there and realize that she was a part of this group that her opinion was asked, and that these friends would stick up for her as long as she was loyal to the school and the team games, dances, clubs, friends and being a part of that life understood only by the students themselves, and by them only vaguely; that was just as much school as the rest.

When Mr. Franklin called her in a few minutes later and gave her five detentions for skipping one period, Heather just said, "Yes, Sir," respectfully and did not make up any excuses. She loved school.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES—by Anna Stair.

Grade 9 began the year with a party in the assembly hall. The evening started with a short programme, the high light of which was the "Grade Nine Trio"—Erma Yanke playing the Piano Accordion, Gladys Yanke playing the Saxophone, and Paul Suter at the piano. After playing a number of games the party continued with a short but delightful dance. The music was supplied by the gramophone and the P.A. System. The evening ended with a delicious lunch.

The second party was held at the North Hill Community Rink on the 21st of December. Skating was enjoyed by all despite the fact that a very cold wind came up from the north. At ten o'clock every one went over to the school where Miss Ramsay, Mrs. Fredell and Mr. Fredell served cocoa and hot dogs in the music room. All in all the party was a real success with plenty of chow.

The Grade 9 A Room held a trial toboggan and ski party at the Regal golf course. There were thrills, spills and good skiing. Tom McGreer, Jack Coristine, Norman Burgoyne and Mr. Fredell demonstrated their ability on skis. Mona Houghton, Anna Stair, Elsie Rankin, Shirley Donald, Doreen Mulloy, Gladys Hunter, Betty Sweet, Marie Clark and Alma Litzenberger had some thrilling rides on the toboggans.

Grade 9B students sponsored a theatre party in January. Thirty students attended the Capital Theatre to see "Hollywood Canteen". A good time was had by all.

HOCKEY—by Bob. Losie

Crescent Heights Grade nine entered a junior team in the Junior High School playoffs. The boys played smart hockey and entered the finals taking Stanley Jones by a score of 4-3 in overtime. The first game of the finals was played against Langevin Juniors on the Mount Pleasant Rotary Park Ice. Playing in below zero weather both teams were held scoreless in the first period. In the early part of the second period Bob Losie scored on a solo rush to put Crescent in the lead. With a minute and a half to go H. Luft scored for Langevin. Despite the fact that two periods of overtime were played neither team could break the deadlock.

On the morning of March 17th these two teams battled it out on the Artificial Ice Arena. It proved to be the best game in the Junior High School eliminations. Langevin scored first and led at the end of the first period 1-0. At the end of the second period the score was 4-2. Ronald Southern played brilliant hockey for the locals and scored twice. It was in the third period that the great spirit of the Crescent team came to the front. Down 4-2, Fred Jarrett who was put in the goal due to Ian Campbell's illness took off his pads and went on the attack. Crescent scored two goals in three minutes to tie the score. The goal keeper scored the tying goal. In the overtime the Langevin team scored to win the game.

Lineup. Crescent: Mr. Fredell (Coach), Southern (Captain) Campbell, Jarrett, Brown, McGreer, Goss, Jury, Suter, Watson, Coristine, Losie.

BOWLING CLUB

This club was sponsored by Miss Ramsey. It played every Monday night from November 20th to April, when the club came officially to an end. The club consisted of 40 members and 8 teams. Willa McDougall bowled the highest score of 220. At the end of the season new teams were chosen and a friendly but lively competition was held for the club championship. This was won by a team composed of Willa McDougall (Captain), Mona Houghton, Dorothy Olesen and Kay Herdman.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL—by Marie Clark and Leona Story

Miss E. Ramsay (Manager), Doreen Hind (Coach), Leona Story, Pat Worthington, Mona Houghton, Eunice Pelling, Marie Clark, Stella Boski, Pat Fearey, June Cummer, Jean McNeil, Agnes Clark and Dorothy Olesen.

Under the coaching of Doreen Hind the Grade Nine girls' basketball team feel they have had a successful year. Doreen is an excellent coach and received the enthusiastic support of all the girls.

Playing a game at Sunalta and losing 52-8 was tough luck but a valuable experience. On March the 9th the girls played at Stanley Jones. They won 13-10. On March 26th they had a very interesting game at Balmoral. Crescent won 15-4. On the 29th of March the girls played Hillhurst and lost 18-16. This was a bang up game.

Due to the fact that the Crescent Hall could not be reserved the girls were not able to have a home game. They are now looking forward to playing for the grade tens next year and helping to win games for C.H.C.I.

BOYS' BASKETBALL—by Ronald Southern.

Senior Team: Mr. Fredell (Manager), Jim Craig (Coach) Thompson (Captain), Kilarski, Holm, McGraw, Goodjohn, Hood, McNally and Milne.

Junior Team: Mr. Fredell (Manager), Jim Craig (Coach), Southern (Capt.), Jarrett, Losie, Jury, McGreer, Litzenberger, Goss, Brown and Burgoyne.

With the fine coaching of Jim Craig, the boys really learned many of the finer points of basketball. They expect to go places in the Junior High Eliminations which are being held during the first week of April. They have had several tune up games and it appears they have a team that will be hard to hold.

HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

At the close of another year the members of the Crescent Heights Home and School Association extend to the Principal, Dr. J. M. Hutchinson, the members of the teaching staff and the students of all grades, very sincere thanks and appreciation for courtesies and co-operation received throughout the season.

As each meeting was held we were greatly assisted by Miss I. Beveridge and Dr. Hutchinson, in the preparation of programmes and in arranging for the printing and distribution of notices, for which we are very grateful.

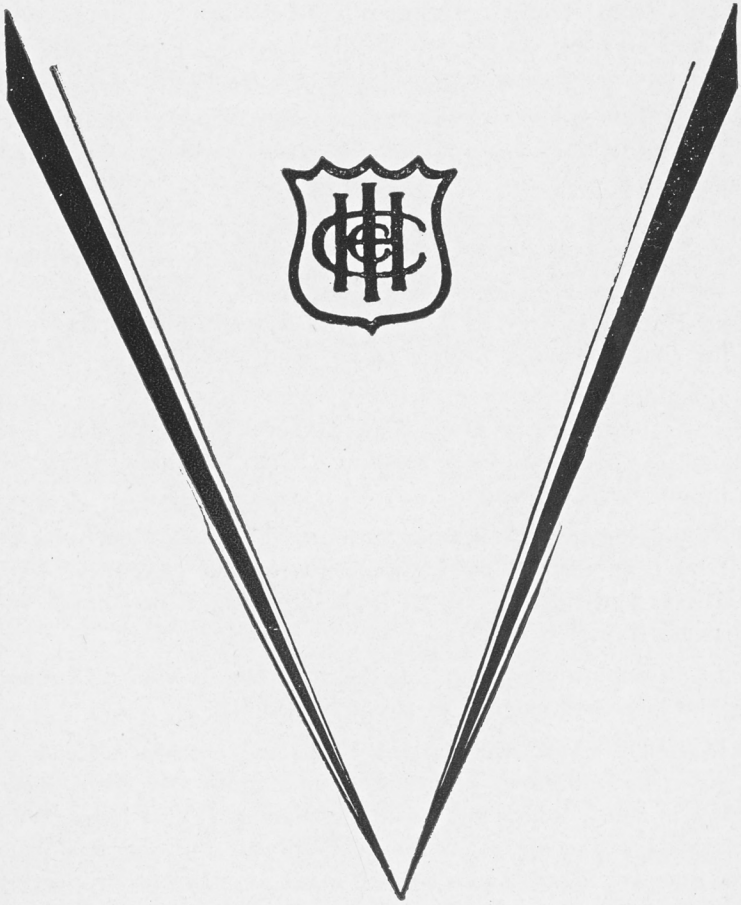

Among the activities of the season were a Valentine Tea in February at which the students helped in serving and providing musical entertainment, a series of discussions on the responsibilities of the home, school and church in training young people to face up to life, with Major W. H. Morgan speaking for the Church, Mr. Paul Brecken for the School and Mrs. H. Burkeholder for the Home, and in April a "Father's Night" was arranged, the whole programme being prepared and presented by the school with Miss Beveridge as chairman.

Altogether we feel it has been a successful and interesting year and we have enjoyed a feeling of real friendship and harmony between the Home and the School.

DRAMATIC CLUB

With the presentation of its feature production, the Dramatics Club closed its 1944-45 term.

The successful meetings from the standpoint of splendid and talented entertainment will undoubtedly draw many new members as well as the return of the old timers to the 1945-46 Dramatics Club.

"Message from Khufu" presented at the Variety Concert directed by Lou Earp and starring Al Downe, Eddie Conville, Wilf Seaker and Robin Woods, was one more illustration of the fine talent this club is producing.

The play "Junior Miss" was of course another overwhelming hit. Yes, indeed, Mr. Laurie, this was another scalp well earned to be added to your belt of successes.

With Audrey Cawsey brilliantly portraying the thirteen year old Judy Graves, (Junior Miss) and Alan Low as the would-be patient father, the play received the best of reviews in the newspapers. Carol Barnes as Fluffy Adams and Harvey Glover as J. B. Curtis should indeed receive honorable mention for characterizing "Judy's chum" and "Daddy's boss" respectively.

The remainder of the cast included: Ruby Guthrie, Joy Verge, Harry Bullen, Eva Roberts, Jim White, Allan Fethers, Robin Woods, Jack Currie, Don Loudon, Val Jeffries, John Jordhoy, Alan Thomson, Jerry Shaw, Bill Laureshen and Audrey Munch.

Besides playing to packed houses, to prove "Junior Miss" was greeted as enthusiastically as former productions, there was a request performance for the Officers and men at No. 10 R.D. following which lunch was served at the Officer's Mess.

The traditional final party was held at the home of Audrey Munch following the last performance at the school.

The Make-Up Crew was patiently directed by Mary Read while Val Jefferies gave his undivided attention to managing the stage crew. These groups were not only connected with the main play but also gave full support to the cast and stage of "Belle of Bagdad," the operatta produced by the Choral Society. Doris Carver again made an efficient Property manager.

The two "Best Acting" awards for this year were presented to Alan Low and Harvey Glover by Mr. Laurie on the night of the final curtain.

Once more our hats are off to you Mr. Laurie, for your increasingly patient coaching and training.

First year plays will begin early in May and it is rumoured that one of the Second Year Drama Classes may present "Taming of the Shrew."

Club executive for the year were as follows:

President .....	Audrey Cawsey
Vice-President .....	Harry Bullen
Secretary .....	Doris Carver
Stage Manager .....	Val Jefferies
Makeup Convener .....	Mary Read
Business Manager .....	Earl Wingfield

THE OPERATIC SOCIETY

Along with other momentous changes in the school this year, the Choral Society underwent some thorough reorganization. First, because the Operetta is the big musical feature of the year, this club concerned itself only with its success. The festival work and outside performances were handled by the music classes under Mr. Pickard's capable leadership. Therefore the name has been changed to the "Operatic Society."

Secondly, the vivacious and volatile Mr. Pickard, after several years of colorful and successful operetta direction, took over the production and stage management while the versatile Mr. Kennedy took over the musical direction. Owing to this happy combination the "Belle of Bagdad" successfully brought out a great amount of talent in the average Crescent student. Long hours, month after month, were spent by a group of students to produce the best chorus that the "Choral" has ever had.

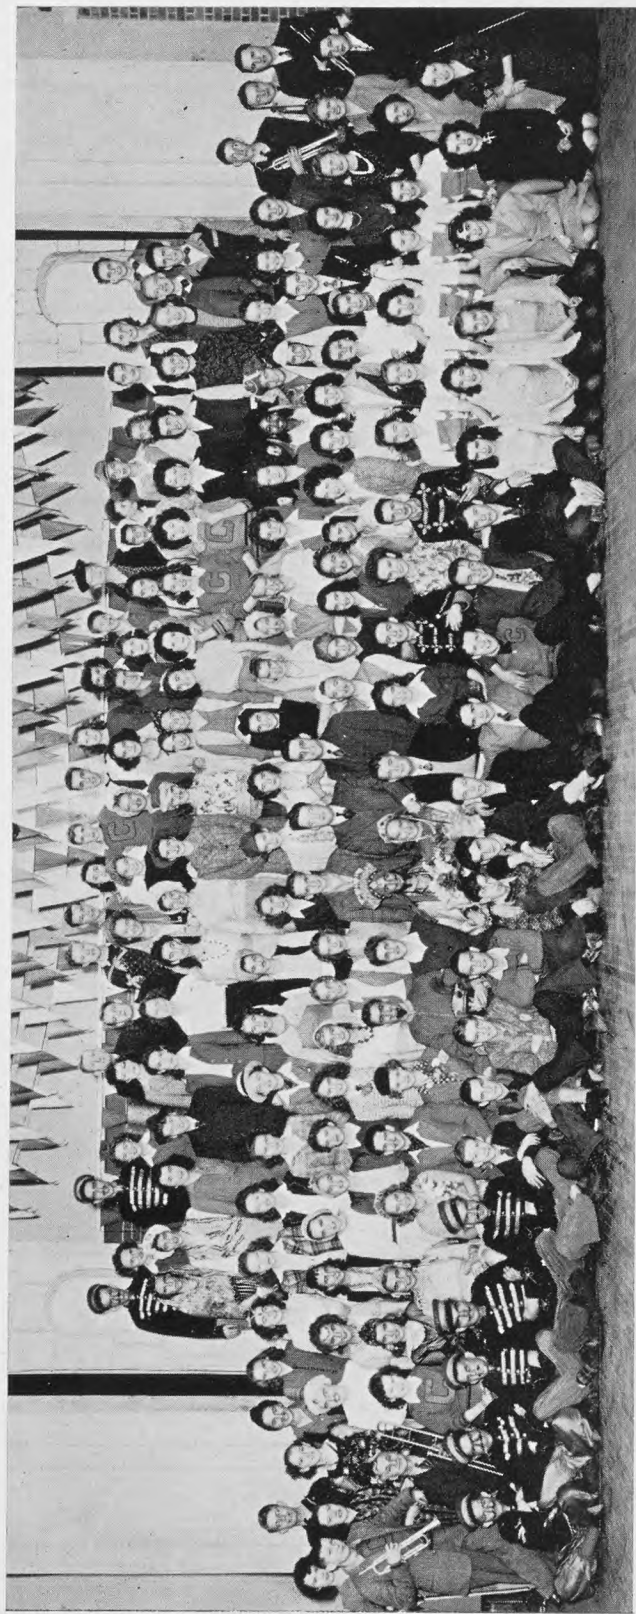

Hollywood was certainly not to be left behind in this land of Bagdad maidens. Seeking the "loveliest lady of the land," was Dick Taylor, talent scout, ably handled by Mel Braithwaite. With Eleanor de Caux as Jewel, the Caliph's favorite daughter, the two provided the highlights of the show with their melodious duets and solos.

That the world is a very small place, was proved by the American tourists, (Gladys Griffen-Beale and Mary Filipchuk) when they met those masters of slapstick comedy, the mechanics for Dick Taylor, played by Malcolm Blackburn and Norman Bodie. The dignified, but tyrannical Caliph of Bagdad, Barrie McNamee, had ordered everyone possessing cameras to be executed. Carrying out his orders, the pompous Ali Ben Mustapha, capably played by Glen Stewart, threw the handsome but unlucky English lord Archie Fitzgibbons (Don Ayre), into jail. Rose and Lily, played by Betty Johnston and Joyce Benoy, got the mechanics into disguise before being seized by Ben Ali. They are all rescued, however, by the persistent intervention of the American consol, played by Dorothy Dingley. Still seeking her "Hennerly" Pat Garrison as Henrietta Whipstitch threw the crowd into hysterics each time she appeared. Fortunately everything turned out happily as Lord Archie marries with Marie Grant, the graceful and charming Harem dancer, Jewel and Dick are together and Henrietta finds solace in the companionship of Ali. Needless to say the four Americans made up for lost time.

The orchestra included more students than ever, and much appreciation is extended to those who came from all parts of the city to play. The Toscanini of Crescent, Bruce Bowen, turned in his usual splendid performance. Val Jefferies led the stage crew in creating a very effective stage set. Our hats are off to Mary Read, who headed the make-up crew in their enormous job and original is hardly the word for the well-executed dances directed by Robin Woods.

The Operatic Society also take this opportunity to extend our sincere thanks to Max Bishop, dramatic director, who so kindly gave of his time to coach the principals and chorus. The financial end of the show was handled by the Girls' Association as in former years under the direction of Miss McKellar, who in spite of the "yoke" of the Student's Union, turned the show into a financial success.

STUDENTS' UNION COUNCIL

Executive:—

President .....	Howard Schwartz
Vice-President .....	Vivian Goss
Secretary-treasurer .....	Margaret Rose
Members at Large .....	John Wilson, Bill Laureshen

The past year at Crescent saw a drastic change in policy in the form of the Students' Union. Naturally it has come up against many difficulties in becoming established, but on the whole its formation seemed to be a very wise move. Howard Schwartz, who battled and emerged victorious through tough opposition, has proved himself a hard worker and a real asset to the Union.

The club and room representatives have worked faithfully with the executive to make the union a success and the efforts of the whole council have resulted in a Christmas dance, a novelty dance to be sponsored in the near future, and a grade XII graduation banquet, which is now under discussion.

Undoubtedly, now that the initial difficulties have been overcome, the Union will prove even more successful.

THE SIREN

The Siren, staff of life to Crescent readers, has shown marked improvement this year. In addition to being the biggest for several years it even boasts a comic strip. On the whole more material is being added and of special note was the return of two colored covers. From the three issues put out to date, and the two more expected, some of the biggest sales on record are being made, and the money is being spent to improve art supplies and equipment. Our hats are off to the students who gave so much of their time to help in the printing of our sheet and also to those who contributed material. Mr. Smith and Mr. Frickleton also played a great part in turning out a well rounded paper.

THE GIRLS' ASSOCIATION

Due to the long summer vacation the Girls' Association did not get under way until October when the mass meeting resulted in the election of the following executive:—

President .....	Joy Verge
Vice-President .....	Pat Garrison
Treasurer .....	Doreen Porter
Secretary .....	Jeanne Frickelton

In December, the Girls' Association, in accordance with the Students' Union, took over the management of the Variety Concert which was as successful as in previous years. January saw the Association combined with the War Service Records Committee to put the Active Service Bugle Drive over the top.

Due to Doreen Porter's unfortunate accident early in February, Jean Morris ably took over the position of treasurer. We would like to express our appreciation to her for being so willing and capable.

The business management of the operetta "The Belle of Bagdad" was once again handled by the Girls' Association. This, too, proved a very successful undertaking.

The Girls' Association wishes to thank all associated teachers for their help with sports and academic work, all members and friends for their splendid co-operation, and particularly Miss McKellar, who worked endlessly for the success of the club.

GIRLS' I.S.C.F.

Each Wednesday, during the noon hour, the Girls' I.S.C.F. Club holds its regular meeting. Seated around the tables, the girls carry on discussions based on "Discovering the Gospel of Mark". Practical application of the Gospel teaching to daily living, is stressed.

Throughout the past year several guest speakers have brought inspirational messages to the club. Among these have been, Mr. C. Tourneau,

Boys' Association Executive

GRADE TEN "LEARN TO DANCE" CLUB

This year the Learn to Dance Club has had its most successful season. Under the sponsorship of Miss Davis and with the able teaching of Chic "Arthur Murray" Young, the club was very successful in helping the tens to master the fine art of dancing. In addition to the weekly sessions in the clubroom, two grade ten shags were held in the gym where the young cats could really stretch a limb. It was truly amazing to see some, who didn't know a fox trot from a horse gallop or a waltz from a square dance when they started, could get in the well-known groove when they graduated.

All the credit goes to the ever jovial Chic Young, who battled through thick and thin to smooth out the toughies. He was ably assisted by Jack Currie, Harold Godwin, Don Allen, Kathie Davidson and Margaret Bertrum, all former graduates of the club and fellow sufferers for the cause. We all join in wishing this club the height of success next season, for its doing a grand job for the younger set.

BOYS' I.S.C.F.

Functioning under a capable executive this organization formed to provide an opportunity for Christian Fellowship in the schools can once more record a most successful year.

The executive consists of:

President .....	Jack Reggin
Vice-President .....	Mel Braithwaite
Secretary .....	Vernon Olhauser
Publicity and Social .....	Jack Coustine
Convenor .....

With a meeting at least once a week and a joint meeting once a month, many successful discussions were had.

A meeting was held in the school after supper when Rev. Charles M. Tournay and Miss Cathie Nicoll spoke.

During the year the combined boys' and girls' interschool clubs held a successful skating party at the Crystal.

Two special meetings which took place were, one which was held at the Christian Missionary Alliance Church, and another a joint meeting when Mr. Anderson, Chairman of the Foreign Mission Fellowship of Canada gave an address.

Of special interest was a series of Bible studies led by Rev. Bonney, Minister of Crescent Heights Baptist Church.

BOYS' HI-Y.

As in past years the Boys' Hi-Y has set a high standard of success in their every endeavor throughout the year.

School Christmas cards were sold as usual and were well received. Good work was done by the members at several dances when they took charge of checking and sale of pop.

As usual the meetings were varied by having several interesting guest speakers on hand.

Delegates from the school attended the annual Hi-Y conference this year at Lethbridge, and the Gamma Phi co-ordinating council was instrumental in starting the Sat-teen Club.

The executive for the year was:

President .....	Don Loudon
Vice-President .....	Stan Beacom
Secretary .....	Lynn Newman
Treasurer .....	Frank Tippitt
5th Member .....	Jim Campbell

The Hi-Y is once again indebted to the able services rendered by their mentor Mr. Beacom.

BOYS' TUMBLING CLUB

This club for boys with bending bodies and agile minds has met with a good year under the able guidance of Mr. Souter.

Aside from the recreation and physical advantages offered by this club, it has proven a great help in raising one's P.T. mark.

Crescent was given its first chance to see the accomplishments of the boys when about 15 of them put on an act in the Variety Concert, which everyone appreciated. Their box horse work and tumbling was amazing to say the least.

BOYS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Functioning under the Student's Union for the first time in its history, the association has had one of the most successful years on record.

At the first of the year the following executive was elected:

President .....	Alan Thompson
Vice-President .....	Dick Irvine
Secretary-Treasurer .....	Harry Bullen
Teacher in Charge .....	Mr. Wallace

Representatives from each grade were chosen: Bob Wylie and Bill Hawkins for Grade 10; Neil Howell and Doug Morrison for Grade 11; and Dick Cooper and Harvey Glover for Grade 12; Val Jefferies represents the Badminton Club.

The Association sponsored the first school dance which was voted a great success. It also sponsored the inter-school Basketball games as well as the one with Magrath High School. The Track Meet and Baseball will be taken care of during the remainder of the term. With the grant from the Union and proceeds from dances and games, new basketball uniforms, track shoes and baseball equipment was purchased.

The efforts of our successful Senior basketball team and the splendid attempt of our Juniors have been recognized with crests. Letterman awards and crests to our Track team will also be given.

The success of the Association is due to the fine support of the dances and games. Keep it up in the few months left and in the years to come.

THE TENNIS CLUB

The Tennis Club has just been started under an able executive of five:—

President .....	Howie Schwartz
Vice-President .....	Hazel Warren
Secretary-Treasurer .....	Bill Maxwell
4th Member .....	Carol Barnes
5th Member .....	Lou Earp

Games will be played on the Mt. Pleasant Tennis Club's Courts (Rotary Park), where it is hoped that the members will turn out in full support. Every Saturday is tournament day, and prizes will be given to the lucky winners. Sixty students have already decided to take part in this sport, and any one else is welcome.

WINNERS OF THE COL. JULL SHOOTING TROPHY

Back row: Dr Hutchinson, Sgt. Welsh, Cadet McCubbin, J. J. Souter (Capt.),
Q.M.S. Richardson, Lt. White, N. J. Pickard.

Drinnan, Cadet Segstro, Cadet Morter.

CADETS

Khaki is the color worn every Wednesday around Crescent, for that's the day when her smart Corps parades.

Under the capable instruction of Capt. Souter and Mr. Pickard, plus a group of fine officers and N.C.O.'s, Crescents' R.C.A.C. are holding their place with the best of them.

Aside from regulation drill, the cadets have received instruction in map reading, I. C. engines, first aid and signaling. Thanks to their foster regiment, 14th (Res.) Calgary Tanks, many a night has been spent in instruction of weapons, etc.

Although they are proud of their efficiency it is their marksmanship which makes them renowned. For the third year in a row the Crescent team won the Jull Cup with seldom obtained perfect score of 500.

The Corps has also entered in the D.C.R.A. the R.M.A. and the Strathcona shoot and feel confident of putting up a good show.

The Officers and N.C.O.'s:—

Cadet Major, J. White; Cadet Captain, (Adjutant) D. Loudon; Cadet C.S.S.M., D. Sanford; Cadet Lieuts, R. White and E. Marsden; Cadet Sgts., F. Wood, T. Drinnan and K. Welsh.

SHOOTING TEAM

Members of Crescent Heights Corps of R.C.A.C. won the 14th (R) Army Tank Regiment rifle shooting trophy for the third successive year.

Crescent 10-man team turned in a perfect score in the grouping competition to nose out the Alberta Military Institute Corps.

Members of the winning team were H. Hughes, Jack Segstro, Tom Drinnan, John McCubbin, D. Langford, D. L. Morter, Ron White, K. R. Welsh, E. Marsden and R. G. Hilchie.

Five teams took part in the match, but Crescents' perfect score proved too much for the others.

WAR SERVICE RECORDS COMMITTEE

The Committee this year is under the convenership of Geraldine Fish and has working with her Pat Poland, Meryle Hill and Hazel Warren.

A Christmas letter containing news of the "Old School" was sent to ex-students in the armed forces. Many letters of appreciation were received along with many interesting snapshots. These are kept on file for anyone wishing to see them.

An attempt has been made to keep the Honor Roll and mailing list up to date from individuals, ex-students and the newspapers.

We would like to thank all those who have contributed to the Active Service Bugle Fund as well as those who have helped keep the records up to date.

GIRLS' BADMINTON CLUB

The Girls' Badminton Club started out in full swing with a large membership and a good turnout to the early morning matches. The Students' Union gave the club a grant of ten dollars, most of which was spent buying the somewhat scarce birds. Tournaments in both singles and doubles were played with Yvonne Mosely and Yvonne Philips emerging victorious in the doubles while Ailsa Frank came out on top in the singles. No inter-school tournaments were played this year, but a social evening is being planned with our own boys' club and a large turnout is expected.

The members of the club wish to express their appreciation to Miss Dunlop for her willing assistance.

This year's executive:—

President .....	Margaret Laminman
Vice-President .....	Jean Morris
Secretary-Treasurer .....	Carol Barnes
Social Convener .....	Eleanor Forrest

BOYS' BADMINTON CLUB

The easing up of war time restrictions has returned badminton in Crescent. Its return has been met with a greater success than in past years, probably due to the fact that the Union abolished dues and gave a large number of students the chance to play.

Plans for the annual social have been made so that it should take place in the near future.

The tournament is still being played, so the championship is as yet undecided.

The executive of the club is as follows:

President .....	Val Jefferies
Vice-President .....	Lou Earp
Secretary Treasurer .....	Harvey Glover
Teacher-in-Charge .....	Mr. Frickleton

Appreciation

It is again our privilege to present for your approval and enjoyment, the Bugle, the record of another chapter in your school career. We hope you will keep it, and read it often. It is sure to bring many fond memories.

I should like to take this opportunity to thank all my editors for their hard work and splendid co-operation. Also worthy of praise are the compilers of the room biographies.

Last but certainly not least I wish to thank Mr. J. L. Laurie and Mr. C. V. Asselstine without whose help and advice this publication would have been impossible.

To all those who helped, my sincerest appreciation.

BOYS' SPORTS

BASKETBALL

Crescent has enjoyed one of the best basketball years in its history. Not only did Crescent recapture the Senior Interscholastic Basketball trophy, but the house league was greeted more enthusiastically than ever before.

SENIOR HOUSE LEAGUE

The Senior House League this year was divided into five teams made up of ten players each who turned out Monday and Friday noons. The team captains were: Howell, Jefferies, Bullen, Thomson and Burrows. The league was run off in one continuous schedule. Thomson held the lead at first, but he was later eclipsed by Jefferies.

SENIOR ACES (Champions)

The Calgary Gas Company Trophy is back home again at Crescent, after a short sojourn at Central.

The other teams tried hard, putting up splendid opposition, but Crescent's smooth teamwork proved just a little too much for them.

The games were played mostly on Friday nights with dances afterwards. The team had a large and enthusiastic following every where it went, because of this, they were referred to as the "rah rah boys" in local papers.

J. J. Souter (Coach)—The "Chief" took Mr. Steckle's place as the guiding light of the team.

Val Jefferies (guard)—The mainstay of the team—Always driving.

Alan Thompson (center)—Leading scorer of the league—specialized in one-hand shots.

Harry Bullen (forward)—Another high-scorer—used his favorite two-handed shot from the side to mount the score.

Glen Thompson (forward)—Teamed up effectively with his brother — should be good next year.

Bill Burrows (forward)—Secured most of his points with rebounds—a two-way player.

Neil Howell (guard)—this smart play-maker out-dribbled every one.

Jack Currie (guard)—Tallest man on the team—used his height to advantage on rebounds.

Howie Schwartz (guard)—A boy who never stopped trying when he was on the floor.

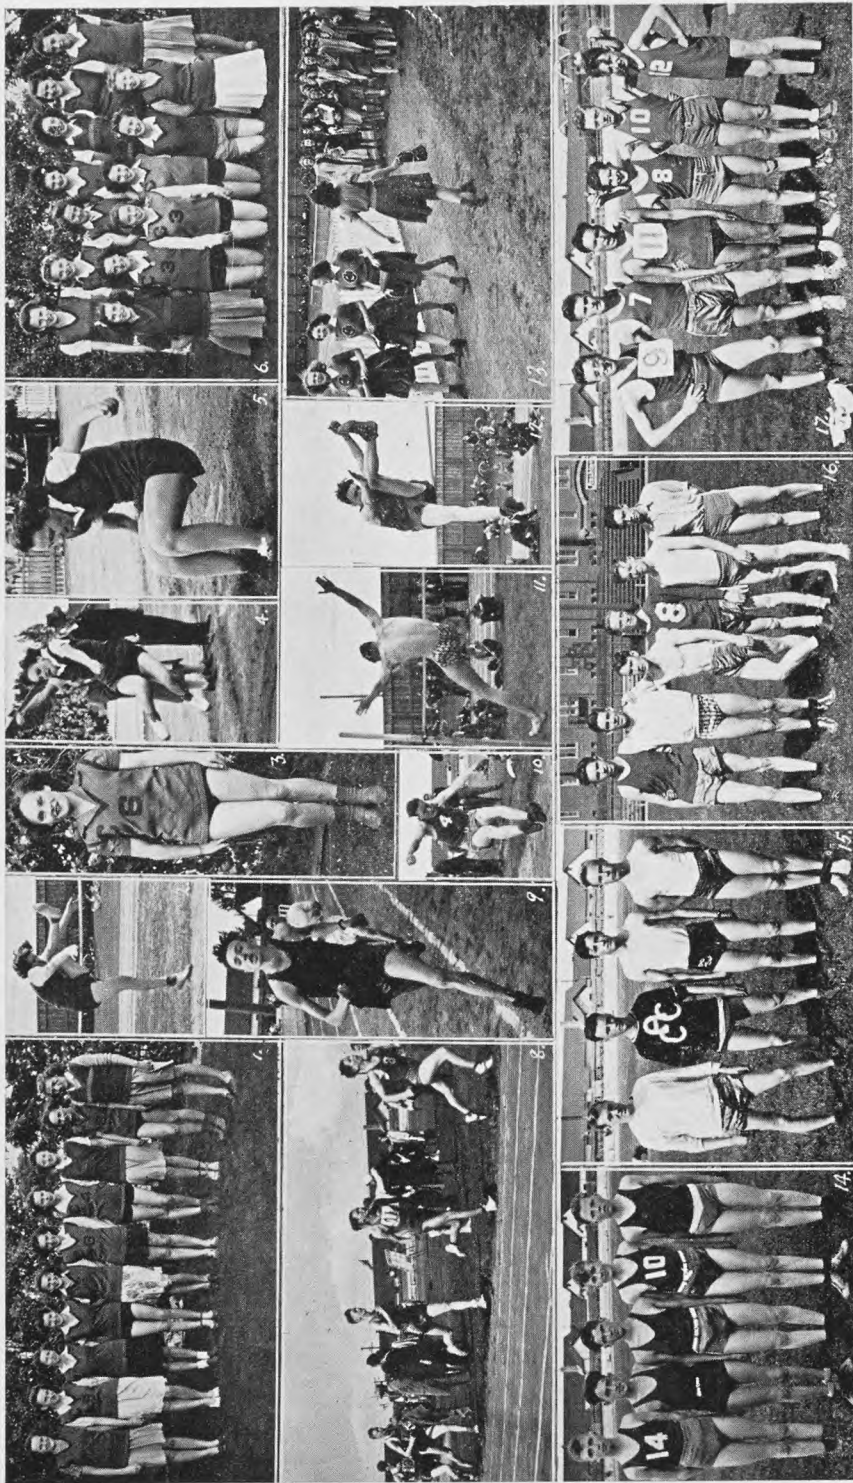

Harvey Glover (guard)—Gave the opposition much to worry them.

Cliff Kelner (centre)—Quiet but deadly—always dangerous around the basket.

Vern Majahey and Gordon Carney—Very promising this year—next year just watch their smoke.

JUNIOR HOUSE LEAGUE

The Junior House League was also very successful with six rooms participating. The room captains were as follows: Room 24—Wylie; Room 15—Kirk; Room 14—Hawkins; Room 17—Martini; Room 18—Pearson; Room 22—Laureshen. The Junior House League also had a very large and

The Junior League was hotly contested this year with all three teams ending in a draw. A round robin series was played in which Central came out on top. Crescent was not left out of all the honors as Orville Martini won the league scoring championship.

These boys are fully confident that they can take the championship next year. The experience and coaching they had this year is standing them in good stead.

Track and Field

We were not so fortunate in the 1944 track meet. St. Mary's amassed a total of 73½ points to win in all three divisions, Junior, Intermediate and Senior. Central was next with 47¼ points followed by Western with 46¼ points. Crescent's gallant athletes came next with 41 points.

GIRLS' SPORTS

Basketball

The 1944-45 basketball season was an exceptionally successful one in Crescent for the one great aim of any sport was accomplished. It provided enjoyment and exercise as well as developing, among the participants, a true spirit of good sportsmanship. Miss Wylie sponsored all basketball.

SENIOR BASKETBALL TEAM

Coach Alan Thompson provided the driving force which carried the senior girls' team through to the playoffs in the Inter-school League. Much interest was stimulated by the fact that Crescent and Western had well-matched teams and the competition was very keen. With true Crescent spirit "the team" fought to chalk up a victory. However theirs was the discouraging experience of losing the title and the cup in the last game by a margin of one point. Better luck next year kids! With a few of the old reliables back and several newcomers to urge you on, you can't lose!

JUNIOR BASKETBALL TEAMS

So great was the turnout for Junior basketball that instead of having one team as is customary, Crescent boasted two Junior teams this year. Harry Bullen kept the "A" team on the jump, while Gordon Carney attempted to impress the finer points of the 'sport of sports' on the members of the "B" team. After six gruelling games, the "A" team had won two, lost three, and tied one, while Carney's Cuties also proceeded to win two, lose three, and tie one. Congratulations to the players who certainly aided in boosting the ever-present school-spirit, and to the coaches who started the girls on the long road up. Without a doubt the Juniors of this year will be next year's Senior Champs!

LINEUPS—SENIOR

JUNIOR "A"

JUNIOR "B"

HOUSE LEAGUE BASKETBALL

The House league is especially designed to provide an opportunity for all girls interested in basketball to develop and demonstrate their ability. Led by six girls with previous basketball experience, the teams completed a very lively schedule of games.

CAPTAINS: Marian Reglin, Vivian Goss, Doreen Hind, Olga Pluto, Helen Boris, Marg. Leppard.

SENIOR GIRLS' TRACK TEAM

The senior girls' team put forward every effort to uphold Crescent's name in the field of sport. However, they were unable to defeat Western and Central who tied for the grand aggregate. This year, we feel certain, the seniors will regain their former high standing and return to Crescent the cups which have been missing for two years.

JUNIOR TRACK TEAM

Congratulations to the Junior team! All points marked up in Crescent's favor were due to your skill and ability. Olga Pluto was outstanding when she captured the Junior Girls' Title with thirteen points.

JUNIOR STANDING

75 Yard Dash:—2 Olga Pluto.

Track Relay:—1 Beula Severns.

Running Broad Jump:—1, Olga Pluto.

Baseball Throw:—1, Olga Pluto. 3, Beula Severns.

Shuttle Relay:—3, Copeland, Barnes, Pluto, Beasley.

The girls' training for the track meet took place under the careful guidance of Miss Hibbard and Miss McCoy.

Epigrams

Ode to Mr. Smith

He flays with indignation haughty
The passages he thinks are naughty,
But reads them carefully so that
He'll know what to be angry at.

Mr. Beacom says, "You can lead a boy to the Algebra class but you cannot make him think."

Our Art Teachers' Views

When dressed for evening, the girls nowadays
Scarce an atom of dress on them leave;
Nor blame them; for what is an evening dress
But a dress that is suited for Eve?

Mr. Pickard's Lament

Swans sing before they die; 'twere no bad thing
Should certain persons die before they sing.

Pome

Mollis abuti
Has an acuti;
No lasso finis,
Molli divinis.

She has a nice sense of rumor.

Frances dyes her locks, 'tis said,
But 'tis a foul aspersion;
She buys them black, they therefore need
No subsequent immersion.

The meeting is nearly over. I can feel the Council is still with me—
But if I run faster I can shake them off. Schwartz.

Mr. Souter read that a form of baseball was a favorite sport among the Greeks. He did remember something about a Homer.

His speeches to an hour-glass
Do some resemblance show;
Because the longer time they run
The shallower they grow.

A memory is something that I forget with.
Beauty is not a gift to man—only a bribe.

N. B., Mr. Frickleton—

Science is always wrong.—It never solves a problem without creating ten more.

A Moron has no mind of his own and walks around not knowing where he is going or what he is doing.—In Crescent we call them students.

HUMOUR

TEACHER'S LAMENT

x + y plus 2 root
An oath a snore and a groan;
A teacher shouting: "You silly ass!"
In a slightly frantic tone.
Helmer with his feet on the teacher's desk,
Chick with his evil grin;
Paul with a glint in that wicked eye,
Struggling to quell the din.
("I think these kids are the root of sin!")
Snorts and snickers, and silly jokes,
A howl from a well-placed tack,
People asking to leave the room,
And never coming back.
Put 'em together and add them up;
Then you'll see, if you dig this jive,
The sort of a time a teacher has
In good old 25!

Pauline Jenkins, driving her dad's car. "Do you want to see where I was vaccinated?"

Grant Innes, expectantly, "Yes indeed!"

Pauline "Well, keep your eyes open we pass the clinic in a couple of minutes."

Gordie Edwards: "Do you like simple things?"

Yvonne: "What's this, a proposal?"

Customer, indignantly: "What does this mean! There's a fly in my teacup!"

Waitress: "Don't ask me, I'm no fortune teller."

Barbara swears she has never been kissed—well isn't that enough to make anyone swear?

In his inside pocket, (right close to his heart),
There are letters of mine with which he won't part.
And that is the thing which annoys me most,
For they are the letters I've asked him to post.

A woman visitor to the London Zoo asked the keeper if the hippopotamus was a male or female.

"Madam", the keeper replied indignantly, "That is something that should be of interest only to another hippopotamus!"

Humour

Five year old, to small child: "How old are you?"

Young and Innocent: "I dunno."

First: "Well, do the girls bother you?"

"Nope."

"Then you're only four."

Two inebriates strolled leisurely into a night club in Minneapolis. The first, upon asking the clerk where the cloak room was, was told to proceed down the hall, go through the second door on the right, and go down three steps.

The two did as directed, only the first stepped down the elevator shaft by mistake, and fell five stories to the basement.

After awhile, the second poked his head down the shaft and said: "Shay, whatcha doin' down there?"

The reply then drifted up the shaft: "Hangin up my coat, but watch out for that first step, it's a bad one."

Mr. Wallace: "What do you know about the French syntax?"

Eddie Ogden: "Gosh, I didn't know they had to pay for their fun."

Soldier: "I want to buy a present for my wife."

Sweet young sales girl: "Could I interest you in some net or rayon stockings?"

Soldier: "Yes, but let's get the present for my wife first."

They were in a dark corner in the hall.

"Give me a kiss," he pleaded.

Four times he asked, and received no answer.

"Are you deaf?" he finally shouted.

"No, she replied. "Are you paralyzed?"

Mr. Smith viewing with disdain Cec Rhodes' humor sheet for the Siren:

"Say, what do you think this magazine is?"

Cec: "Well, we have no market in Boston."

Many a man who thought opportunity was knocking at the door, found out it was merely temptation.

Judge to cheeky young prisoner: "You now have 32 days for contempt. Would you like to try for 64?"

Erskine says that the girls of today all have Missouri legs. They have to be shown.

Chic says that a style expert is one who can make a girl feel modest when she doesn't look it.

"A girl can expect a fellow to be a gentleman first and last" says Gerry, "but not always."

It Had To Be Done

All who saw her pitied her. Staring with glassy eye at the paper before her, the poor girl, stooped and haggard, ran her fingers through her tousled hair. Slowly, mournfully she shook her head and mopped her saddened brow.

"Is there nothing else?" she screamed with frustration, shaking a fist at those who milled around.

Tears that welled in those heavy, blood-shot eyes soon were dropping peacefully over that wretched face.

But the tears dried, the sobbing stopped, a little cackle and then a loud hysterical screech rent the air. A glint came to the fiendish eye as she grasped a grubby pencil. It had to be done, yes, it would be done.

Oh, don't be so worried, its just ye assistant Ed. trying to get lit. for the Bugle and in desperation deciding to write it herself.

MARGARET LAMINMAN.

CALGARY

A CITY OF WHICH YOU
CAN BE JUSTLY PROUD

This city in which we live is the envy of many a visitor. They marvel at the clear, pure air, with no smoke pall obscuring the sun and putting a coat of grime on our homes and buildings. They note the unexpected number of landscaped plots enhancing their neighborhoods with shady foliage and colorful blooms.

Yes, Calgary is a good city in which to live; your fathers have made it so. It is your duty and privilege to start bearing the responsibilities of citizenship now. Using your influence to discourage the wanton destruction of city property is one way of doing this. Another way is to learn now the form of our city government, for to-morrow you may be directing its destiny.

Mr. Laurie made a trip to the South Seas. The sea was very rough at the time and many of the passengers were having a tough time of it. A friend came up behind him and struck him a heavy blow on the back.

"What's the matter, J. L.?, got a weak stomach?"

"Heavens no," replied Mr. Laurie. "I seem to be able to throw it as far as the rest of them."
